Top 7 reasons to vote for the Murphy/Oliver Team

Respect for profession

"As a product of a public school education and the brother of a retired Boston teacher, I am a strong supporter of traditional district schools and public school employees. One of the greatest strengths we have as a state is our system of public education, and we desperately need a governor who values and promotes that system. I have been a vocal ally and advocate for public education, and I intend to continue to champion these causes as governor."

School funding

"SFRA, when passed, was a landmark piece of legislation...and continues to be considered a national model. Unfortunately, Gov. Christie has underfunded the formula by more than $8 billion – forcing many towns to either raise property taxes or cut school services. When the conversation earlier this year shifted to a misguided debate over how to change the formula, I continued to advocate for funding the existing formula."

Pensions

"Many educators joined the profession not because they were expecting to get rich, but because they wanted to make a difference in their community and because they would have a secure retirement with a defined benefit pension. It is a central part of the promise that we have made to our school employees, and I would work to preserve it."

Higher Education

"I am committed to making college affordable for every New Jersey student by increasing state aid to institutions of higher education, including county colleges, to lower tuitions and fees."

ESP rights

"Educational support professionals play a critical and under-appreciated role in a child's learning experience, especially when we consider that learning does not just occur inside a classroom. I support legislation that would protect ESPs from privatization and give them due process rights."

PARCC

"I have been a vocal critic of PARCC. I believe the era of high-stakes, high-stress standardized tests in New Jersey must end, and I will see that it does. We must get back to the simple premise of letting teachers use classroom time to teach to their students' needs, and not to a test. Too much emphasis is being put on a single test, as opposed to weighing a student's progress through years of instruction."

Ch. 78

"Public school employees should not continue to see their take home pay decrease . . . I will work with all stakeholders to address the impact of Chapter 78."
